

DEPARTMENT OF BIOSTATISTICS AND COMPUTATIONAL BIOLOGY

OPEN HOUSE FOR PROSPECTIVE GRADUATE STUDENTS

Students interested in Master's or Ph.D. programs in the statistical sciences are strongly encouraged to attend

Learn about the numerous exciting career opportunities for people with advanced training in biostatistics and statistics

Find out the advantages of obtaining a Master's or Ph.D. degree

Meet current students and hear their perspectives on life as a graduate student in Rochester

Meet other students interested in pursuing graduate study in biostatistics and statistics

Get information from faculty and staff on:

- Program content
- Program requirements
- The application process
- Financial support

For more information on our programs or to view a schedule of the Open House event, visit:

www.urmc.rochester.edu/biostat

Hear from program alumni about how graduate study prepared them for their careers

Tour the department and classroom space

SATURDAY
October 1, 2016

10:00 AM – 2:30 PM

(Check-in and light refreshments at 9:30 am. Lunch will be provided.)

University of Rochester
Department of Biostatistics and Computational Biology

School of Medicine and Dentistry
265 Crittenden Boulevard
Rochester, NY 14642

Questions? Please contact
Karin Gasaway at (585) 275-6684
URBiostat@urmc.rochester.edu

ONLINE REGISTRATION REQUIRED by Friday, September 23

<https://statx.urmc.rochester.edu/BiostatOpenHouse2016/Registration.aspx>