

University of Rochester Diversity Scholarship Program:

At the University of Rochester Department of Urology, the promotion of diversity, equity, and inclusion are departmental priorities. The Diversity Scholarship program encourages learners from backgrounds that are underrepresented in Urology and Medicine (African-Americans, Women, Latinx, Indigenous Americans, and others) to experience all UR Medicine has to offer through visiting sub internship grant. The Department of Urology endeavors to define “diversity” inclusively that may include economically disadvantaged or LGBTQ+ students. Students must be attending an allopathic medical school in the U.S. to be eligible.

This scholarship awards up to $2,000 in financial support to help offset the cost of a visiting sub internship.

All URMU Urology electives listed on VSAS are eligible for the program except the virtual electives. Two week rotations will have reduced grant awards.

Applicants must commit to the elective if the award is accepted. There is a no-drop policy.
