

Scott Fryberger
Public Health Preparedness Coordinator
Florida Department of Health – Seminole County

Scott Fryberger is the Public Health Preparedness Coordinator for the Florida Department of Health in Seminole County. For the last 10 years, he worked for the Florida Department of Health in Orange County as the Special Needs Shelter Coordinator. His experience in emergency operations, infectious diseases, points of dispensing and sheltering prepared him for the opportunity to serve as the Florida Department of Health’s Acting Regional Emergency Response Advisor (RERA) for Region 5—Central Florida Regional Domestic Security Task Force. It was during this time he responded to the Pulse Tragedy in Orlando, Florida.

Scott spent three days “on scene” as part of the Emergency Support Function (ESF) 8 for Public Health and Medical Services. He supported mass fatality management, responder rehab and the family assistance center. He has shared his experience with the Pulse Tragedy response at local, state and national conferences.

Scott is originally from Western New York. After brief stops in Charlotte, North Carolina and Atlanta, Georgia, he made Orlando, Florida his home. He has a Bachelor of Arts in Communication from the University of Buffalo and is working on his Master’s in Emergency and Disaster Management.
