Pediatric Trauma Program Manager
University of Rochester Medical Center

Robert is from Rochester, NY. He graduated from the University of Rochester School of Nursing in 1993 with a Bachelors in Nursing. After graduation, Bob began working as a pediatric nurse at Strong Memorial Hospital on a school age pediatric general care unit. In 1995, he began working in the Pediatric ICU at Strong. Bob moved to Baltimore, Maryland in 1998 to pursue a career as a Pediatric Transport Nurse at the University of Maryland Medical Center, and in 2001 moved to Johns Hopkins Hospital. Returning to Rochester in 2004, Bob came back to the PICU, where he also assisted in leading the Pediatric Transport Team, and was instrumental in creating a free-standing Pediatric Transport Team at Golisano Children's Hospital. In 2013, Bob became a full-time faculty member at the University of Rochester School of Nursing, teaching pediatric clinical and fundamental skills in the Accelerated Program for Non-Nurses. In May 2015, Bob received his Clinical Nurse Leader Master's degree and, in May 2017, he received his Doctor of Nursing Practice, both at the UR SON. Bob is currently the Pediatric Trauma Program Manager at Golisano Children's Hospital, University of Rochester Medical Center. He maintains clinical practice with the Pediatric Transport Team, PICU, and Pediatric Emergency Department at Golisano Children's Hospital, as well as a flight nurse with Mercy Flight Central. Robert has spoken locally, regionally, and internationally on pediatric critical care and pediatric transport nursing. He has been recognized by his students as "an excellent, personable instructor who makes things easy to understand."
