

UR Wilmot Cancer Institute
University of Rochester

Hematology/ Oncology Faculty Position in Regional Cancer Program

The Hematology-Oncology Division at the James P. Wilmot Cancer Institute, University of Rochester, is recruiting a hematologist/oncologist to join an expanding academic and clinical regional oncology program across the New York Finger Lakes region. The criterion for appointment is a commitment to clinical excellence, compassionate care, and exceptional team work. The ideal recruit will collaborate with local physicians and sub-specialists in surgery and radiation oncology as part of the regional program, with opportunities for clinical research and sub-specialty care. Creativity and strong interpersonal skills to work with a diverse faculty will be essential. EOE Minorities/Females/Protected Veterans/Disabled physicians and candidates at all levels of experience (Assistant, Associate, or Full-Professor) are encouraged to apply.

Please contact: Karol Marciano
Hematology-Oncology Division
Email: karol_marciano@urmc.rochester.edu

The University of Rochester is committed to fostering, cultivating, and preserving a culture of diversity and inclusion. The University believes that a diverse workforce and inclusive workplace culture enhances the performance of our organization and our ability to fulfill our important missions. The University is committed to fostering and supporting an environment inclusive of people regardless of their race, ethnicity, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, socio-economic status, marital status, age, physical abilities, political affiliation, religious beliefs, or any other non-merit fact, so that all employees feel included, equally valued and supported.